Yr 2 PM levelling	PM: Purple + 19-20 (ORT 8) PM: Gold 21-22 (ORT 9) PM:White 23-24 (ORT 10)	The road near Wilf and Wilma's house was flooded. The children watched the cars going through the flood. One car had broken down and was stuck in the middle.	The friends peered out of the spaceship as rocks exploded from the sealed entrance. Eight metal spheres smashed their way into the cave like wrecking balls. One of the Krools unfolded. Its eyes glowed green as it pointed to the ship.

Yr 3 PM levelling	PM: Lime 25-26 (ORT 11-12) PM: Ruby 27-28 (ORT 13-14)	He followed the ship up a tall, winding staircase. He passed room after room stuffed full of strange-looking machines. Were they the professor's inventions? Doohickey knew that he was supposed to go straight up the stairs, but he couldn't help himself. He popped into one of the rooms to take a closer look.	Chapter 1 – The mist in space The Excelsa whizzed through the emptiness of the Delta-Zimmer Galaxy. On board, Max, Cat, Ant and Tiger were worried. They were deep in outer space and hadn't seen any planets for a long time. "Are we ever going to get to the wormhole? It feels like we've been travelling for ages but not getting anywhere," said Tiger. "We're making good time," said Max, with a confidence he didn't feel. "I just hope Badlaw isn't on our trail when we get there."

She-wolf eyed him, growling. These were her first cubs but instinct told her that some fathers would kill their helpless newborns. But she had nothing to fear from One-eye. He was flooded with a fatherly instinct to feed his cubs, and he set off again to hunt. When he returned with food, She-wolf let him come a little closer to the cubs. He was doing what a wolf father should. He was helping to look after the babies they had brought into the world.
